U.S.: "All employees of the respondent at its plant at Hamilton, save and except assistant foremen, persons above the rank of assistant foreman, office and sales staff, laboratory staff, timekeepers, draftsmen, plant nurses and watchmen".

(86 employees)

"The parties are in agreement as to the persons who are included in the bargaining unit. The unit as jointly proposed by the parties is described in the following terms:

All employees of the Company at its plant in Hamilton, Ontario save and except: assistant foremen and fore-ladies, foremen and foreladies, assistant superintendents, superintendents, office staff, clerical staff both in plant and office, engineering and professional staff, laboratory staff, timekeepers, draftsmen, first aid nurses, plant security guards, watchmen, sales staff, personnel department, and all supervisory personnel and all confidential personnel.

The above description does not conform with the practices that the Board has followed in describing bargaining units. The Board accordingly finds that all employees of the respondent at its plant in Hamilton, save and except assistant foremen, persons above the rank of assistant foreman, office and sales staff, laboratory staff, timekeepers, draftsmen, plant nurses and watchmen, constitute a unit of employees of the respondent appropriate for collective bargaining.

The Board notes the agreement of the parties that clerical staff located in both the office and the plant are not included in the bargaining unit".

it: "All employees of the respondent in the plants in the Township of Sandwich, save and except foremen, persons above the rank of foreman, office and sales staff."

(38 employees)

(Certified, August 1965)

"We are not persuaded on the grounds argued by the respondents that there is any tenable basis for finding that the company's employees in its tool and die division and its metal treating division located in adjacent but separate buildings do not constitute a single appropriate bargaining unit. In our opinion, the facts do not establish such a division of labour between the employees of the two divisions or any other factors which would be operating or location of the divisions which would warrant the conclusion that it would be inappropriate to include the employees of both divisions in a single unit".

App: "All carpenters and carpenters' apprentices in the employ of the respondent in Toronto, save and except foremen and persons above the rank of foreman". (34 employees)

"This is an application for certification in which the applicant trade union seeks certification as bargaining agent for all carpenters and carpenters' apprentices, save and except foremen and persons above the rank of foremen, in the employ of the respondent in Toronto, and asks the Board to find that such a group is appropriate for collective bargaining. The circumstances to be considered in this application are, in all material aspects, similar to those which the Board considered in an application for certification as bargaining agent for a unit of employees of this respondent made by the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Local 353, Board file No. 10029-64-R. The history of the relationship between the respondent and the group of employees involved in that decision is substantially the same as that between the respondent and the group of employees involved by this application. For the reasons given in the application of 10029-64-R, the City of Toronto Case the Board finds that the group of employees with respect to which bargaining rights are sought in this application constitutes a unit of employees appropriate for collective bargaining".

165-R: Geo. E. Knowles Limited

"All carpenters and carpenters' apprentices in the employ of the respondent working at or out of Lepuskaing, save and except non-working foremen and persons above the rank of non-working foreman". (7 employees)

For purposes of clarity, the Board decided that all carpenters and carpenters' apprentices employed in the shop of the respondent are not included in the bargaining unit.

The Board is not favourably disposed to the area proposed by the applicant. While it appears inevitable that a new area will have to be determined in north-eastern Ontario in the near future, the time is not now. At this time, the pipeline the respondent is involved in is not planned to be in the area.
